

Sinclair is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Political partisanship is one thing, and news is another. Serving the public interest requires that these two forms of communication be kept clearly separate. Sinclair's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election points to the dereliction of their duty to the public, who after all, OWN the airwaves.

Please oversee this propagandistic company, as is your duty.

Thank you.

Travis Van Brasch